

Vision 21: Law Enforcement and the Communities They Serve: Supporting Collective Healing in the Wake of Harm

Demonstration Sites

- Baton Rouge, Louisiana
- Houston, Texas
- Minneapolis, Minnesota
- Oakland, California
- Rapid City, South Dakota

Themes Across Sites

- Pervasive Impact / Unmet Needs related to Trauma
- New, re-organized, or non-existent agency victim services
- SILOS; Needs re: understanding victim services landscape/ VOCA
- Need for grassroots partnerships
- Connecting the dots with unmet needs surrounding supportive, trauma-informed services for sworn officers & other agency personnel

Site Specific Overview

Minneapolis, MN

- Implementation of Community Navigators
- Homicide response strategies

Site Specific Overview

Baton Rouge, LA

- Collective Healing Coalition and Strategy
 - Grassroots level
 - Healing Spaces

Chief Murphy Paul's Apology

Site Specific Overview

Rapid City, SD

- Quality of Life Unit
 - Historical Trauma-Informed Training
- Family Justice Center

Site Specific Overview

Oakland, CA

- Disconnect with community-based VSPs
- Trauma-Informed Policing Plan (TIP)

Site Specific Overview

Houston, TX

- Expansion of Law Enforcement Based Victim Services
- Domestic Abuse Response Team (DART)

OVC/DOJ Cross Collaborations

- Enhancing Law Enforcement Response to Victims
- Vicarious Trauma Toolkit
- Complex Homicide Initiative
- Public Safety Partnership

Discussion

- What have you seen as the role of CBO victim service providers/ grassroots groups in assisting the PDs in helping to better serve victims in their communities?
- What are some of the barriers to community service providers and law enforcement in collaborating to better serve victims?
- What do you see as the intersections between the Collective Healing work and VOCA Assistance & Compensation?
- What are challenges sites have encountered in related to VOCA funding and this work?
- What are the key takeaways for Administrators?

Gillian Caplan
Project Manager, IACP
caplan@theiacp.org
(703)647-7327